KRIX
EXPERIENCE SOUND

The Volcanix is the peak of home theatre bass delivery. Effortlessly reproducing the sheer energy of a high-powered explosion on your screen, the impact of a kick drum, or the subtleties of a double bass, all at the tip of your fingers.

With push-button controls conveniently located behind the grille, there's no need to pull this subwoofer out from the wall to make adjustments – it's all right there in front of you.

A massively powerful 305mm long-throw bass driver is at the heart of the Volcanix, developed specifically for high-level, low frequency reinforcement. Krix's own amplifier design using ICEpower® class D technology is also built in, increasing efficiency and lowering power consumption.

Simple controls allow for easy set-up, with a back-lit LCD display that fades in brightness after 45 seconds, this extreme bass experience not only sounds great, it looks great too with your choice of classic black woodgrain or five genuine timber veneer finishes.

For the ultimate sound experience at home, play it through Krix.
